Consulted by thousands in Libraries and Bookstores across the U.S., How to Buy Real Estate in Mexico will now have a directory at the back of the book with ads and listings divided by geographic area and type of service. This Directory will allow Real Estate service providers (Realtors, Bankers, Developers, etc.) in Mexico and the U.S. to have direct access to customers urgently needing such services. You won't need to repeatedly pay newspapers or magazines for temporary advertisements which ultimately ends up in the trash.

The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, the Los Angeles Times, and California Lawyer have referred to How to Buy Real Estate in Mexico and the book is currently on the shelves of law and public libraries, and law firms across the U.S. Your advertisement will allow you to reach people who are already seeking information on buying property in Mexico and your ad will keep working for you indefinitely. Unlike newspapers and magazines, books are consulted over and over again.
